

STB Staff Branch reaches out to staff in insightful recruitment talk

The Singapore Tourism Board (STB) Staff Branch shared with close to 40 participants on the Labour Movement and what it means to be a union member at its Union Engagement Day on 22 February 2017.

Mr Patrick Tay, Assistant Secretary-General, NTUC, shed light on how NTUC had evolved over the last 15 years, pushing for more benefits for employees and representing the working population holding leadership responsibilities or specialised jobs.

Agreeing to the importance of having close union-management ties, Mr Derek Tan, Executive Director, Human Resource and Organisational Development, STB, commended the Branch for maintaining a strong working relationship with the management over the years.

The increase in union representation for staff up to Salary Grades 8 and 9 is testament to this close bond both parties share. Mr Derek added that STB's management will continue to leverage on its cordial relationship with the Branch and engage the Branch officials before implementing new policies.

Ms Noorfarahin, Chairman, STB Staff Branch, touched on the various benefits of union memberships e.g. cash rebates at FairPrice, Union Training Assistance Programme (UTAP), AUPE Mutual Aid Schemes and more.

Ms Noorfarahin also urged the officers to step up and be young leaders of the Labour Movement.

A total of 9 officers signed up to be union members. They received their membership card on the spot, and got an exclusive thermos flask and pedometer watch as gifts.

Stay tuned for more exciting activities organised by the Branch!
